++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rather cloudy Saturday. Brighter but fresher Sunday.

Today:
Rather warm but on the cloudy side for many, with mist and fog also possible. This should thin and develop breaks to give some limited brighter intervals for a time, before thicker cloud makes a return to end the day. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Becoming rather cloudy and damp from the north overnight, perhaps clearing from the northwest around dawn to give a chilly end to the night here. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Sunday:
Rather cloudy to start, but this should clear to a brighter, fresher day, with plenty of sunny spells and some fair weather cloud. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Probably on the cloudy side again to start the working week, with the odd spot of rain possible, but becoming drier and brighter towards midweek.
